Couple robbed on birthday night out

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertssexnews.co.uk

A YOUNG couple were threatened and mugged in Harlow in the early hours of the morning after returning from a birthday celebration in London.

Police investigating the robbery, which took place shortly before 1am on Tuesday, are hoping passengers on a passing bus may have seen what happened.

Two teenagers threatened the 20-year-old man and his 19-year-old partner as they were walking near Burnt Mill Academy in First Avenue.

The young woman, who asked not to be named, told the Star they had been celebrating her birthday in London and taken the last train home. As they were walking through Harlow Town Park and up School Lane to First Avenue they were approached by the suspects.

"They came up to us and just kept saying 'what you got, what you got?'," she said. "I couldn't believe it. I just kept thinking this can't happen on my birthday."

"They said they had a shank [a knife] but we couldn't see it. They shouted that they were going to rape me and we decided we weren't going to have any of it."

The muggers snatched the man's white iPhone and tried to punch him but failed to make contact. They then ran away.

The father of the male victim said: "It is no longer safe to walk the streets of Harlow at night. I would like to thank Essex County Council and Essex Police who have supported the initiative for switching off the street lights in Harlow. This gave the muggers the cover of darkness from which to make their attack.

"My advice for people travelling home at night is do not walk the streets after the lights are switched off."

An Arriva 510 bus en route to Stansted had just passed by the scene and police want to talk to anyone on board who may have seen anything suspicious.

One of the suspects is described as white, aged 17-18, around 5ft 11ins tall and had dark brown short hair. He was wearing a white Adidas T-shirt with a big, black logo on the front and light grey jogging bottoms.

His accomplice is white, aged 17-18, around 5ft 10ins tall, of slim build with short, light brown hair, acne and freckles. He was wearing a dark grey hooded top which was zipped up the middle.

Woman sexually assaulted in park

DETECTIVES have launched a manhunt after a woman was subjected to a serious sexual assault in Harlow Town Park on Sunday afternoon.

The victim, who is in her 40s and from the Harlow area, was pulled into a wooded area of the park and attacked at 4.30pm.

Police said the woman had met the man earlier in the day. She is now being looked after by Essex Police's sexual offences investigation team.

Detective Inspector Terry Balding said: "After the incident the victim ran off down the path towards School Lane. The man then pulled up in his silver car and asked her to get in but she shouted at him and walked off along First Avenue."

"She saw a white man and woman, who she thinks were in their 50s who may have seen or heard their exchange. I would really like them to contact my team as they may be able to help with information into the investigation."

Pensioner seriously injured by muggers

A MAN in his 70s suffered serious injuries during a street robbery near Kaz's Indian restaurant in Partridge Road, Harlow.

The victim was assaulted by two men, who demanded he hand over all his money. The suspects then pushed the man to the ground just before 2.30pm on Monday.

Both suspects are described as white and aged between 28 and 30. One of the men was wearing a red t-shirt. They left the scene in a black convertible vehicle.

Detective Constable Cuthbert, of Harlow police, said: "The victim sustained serious injuries from the attack so I'm keen to speak to anyone who was in the area at the time, or who might have some information that can assist trace those responsible."

Anyone with information about any of these crimes should Harlow Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111

Community invited to service to mark centenary of First World War

THE GREAT WAR 1914-18

THE Star REMEMBERS

THE community of Harlow is invited to the re-dedication of the Potter Street war memorial on Monday to mark the 100th anniversary of the start of the First World War.

Harlow Council has been working with a number of individual residents and groups - including churches, schools, art groups, The Museum of Harlow and the Royal British Legion - to mark the centenary on August 4.

An illustrated book has been produced with the names and last resting places of those who did not return.

It is based on the original research by Arthur Graham and contains information on the area's war memorials and a war graves map in Harlow.

Two of the town's war memorials - at Potter Street and Great Parndon - have been refurbished and restored while others have been cleaned.

The re-dedication service at the Potter Street war memorial will take place at 11am on Monday.

An event will also be held in Harlow Town Park organised by the Royal British Legion.

For more information on the First World War Centenary visit www.1914.org or visit www.harlow.gov.uk for more events.

Police appeal for witnesses to incident of racial abuse

WITNESSES to an alleged incident of racial abuse in Harlow town centre on Friday are being sought by police "as a matter of urgency".

A 22-year-old man from Harlow was arrested following the incident which happened outside Asda in The Water Gardens at about 8pm.

According to police, several members of the public were subjected to a "stream" of racial abuse.

The man arrested by police was questioned on suspicion of a racially aggravated public order offence and released on bail until August 26 while enquiries continue.

Inspector Neil Armstrong, of the Neighbourhood Crime Team, said: "This was a particularly unpleasant incident."

Plea for return of lost wedding photographs

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DEVASTATED couple celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary are appealing for the return of priceless photographs of their big day.

Rita Spooner, 62, of Greygoose Park, Harlow, had collected her wedding photographs together with old newspaper clippings for a trip to the hotel where she honeymooned in Elba with husband Terry 40 years ago.

She purchased a suitcase from the TK Maxx store in The Water Gardens and carefully stored the items inside.

However, the suitcase was too big and Mrs Spooner returned it the store forgetting to take the photographs out. As soon as she realised her mistake she returned to the shop but by then the suitcase had been sold to another customer.

The photographs were in an A4 size plastic wallet in the outside back pocket of the case.

HAPPY DAYS: Terry and Rita Spooner on their honeymoon back in 1974

"These items are very precious and we cannot replace them," she said. "I know it was a silly mistake and I just hope someone has them and will return them."

"The person who bought the suitcase may not even know they have them as they were in a pocket at the back."

A photograph of Mrs Spooner, her father and her bridesmaids is particularly precious.

She said: "It's a lovely photograph of us together. It's even more important as he passed away a couple of years ago so I'm desperate to get that one back more than the others."

The suitcase was purchased on Tuesday, July 8 and returned on Friday, July 11.

Mrs Spooner, whose husband is a UKIP councillor for Harlow, is prepared to offer a reward for the return of the items and is urging people who bought a suitcase from TK Maxx to check it.

She added: "I just hope we can get them back soon. They mean so much to us."

Anyone with information about the photographs should contact the Star by emailing star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or by calling (01279) 451545.

Hospital parking fees are a stealth tax to subsidise NHS

SIR I am grateful to Ian Kennett (Letters, July 24) as I know that he writes with sincerity, even if we disagree. My campaign against hospital car parking charges for both staff and patients does not seek to take money from hospitals. I have urged the NHS to use more generic rather than branded drugs which would easily pay for the cost of free parking. For example, if statins were generic rather than branded drugs this would raise £200m - the estimated cost of getting rid of hospital car parking charges. The last Labour government signed numerous NHS hospital private finance deals with big companies, leading to extortionate NHS car parking charges up and down the country. Some Harlow residents have been paying up to £500 a week visiting hospitals in London. Across England, nurses currently pay an average of £200 per month for parking and the average for patients is £40 a week. In 2010 the current coalition government published a document saying that hospital car parking charges should be proportionate and fair. This is far from the case. It was never envisaged that patients with cars - often with children, the elderly or infirm - would have to pay a stealth tax to subsidise the NHS. That is why I am campaigning to scrap, or at least reduce, hospital car parking charges and why I set up the website www.hospitalparkingripoff.co.uk.

Zero tolerance approach will deter travellers returning

SIR As someone who was faced with living 50 yards from a group of travellers, I have to commend the efforts of Harlow Council which put extensive effort into preventing access to the area in the weeks before and acted quickly to enforce the relevant legislation when their measures failed and the invasion succeeded. The same, unfortunately, cannot be said of Essex Police. The convoy was blocking a public highway for at least an hour while the police looked on and a chainsaw or angle grinder was used to remove 15 feet of hedgerow and a bollard long after the police had been informed and arrived in the vicinity. I say 'in the vicinity' because, as a neighbour had been threatened whilst walking his dog, I wasn't about to go and see where they actually were. It seems to be the case that once a group has moved onto the land it becomes the landowner's problem and the police can declare themselves unable to help. This means the bills arrive at the town hall, not at police headquarters. We read recently in the Star that the council is investigating what laws can be employed to deal with the problem on a more permanent basis. I would suggest that if the police actually employed current laws to prevent the initial invasion, the people in question would no longer regard this town as an easy place to set up camp. A zero tolerance campaign from the moment the next convoy of travellers arrives in the town would, I am sure, deter them from coming back.

PHOTOS OF THE WEEK

THIS week's photo was taken by Emma Jones, of Wyldwood Close, Old Harlow. "It is a group of ducks that we keep seeing on our neighbours' roofs in Old Harlow," she writes. "They are particularly noisy with all their quacking." If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

The initial cost in overtime etc may be high but there would be no clean up costs after the event. People are fined, and rightly so, when their dog fouls the footpath. The underpass and wooded area behind my house have been used as a lavatory by travellers. Surely it is against the law to defecate in a public place? How many of these disgusting acts resulted in prosecution?

Name and address supplied

Let's not forget who spent £65k on plastic flowerpots

SIR I would have to agree with Conservative councillor Joel Charles that having to spend £40,000 of taxpayers' money to deal with the illegal actions of travellers is an outrage and the costs should be met by the offenders. However, I would remind him that when his Tory buddies ran Harlow Council not so long ago they spent £65,000 on the monstrous eyesore that is those enormous red plastic flowerpots in our market square. Once again when it comes to local fiscal prudence the Tories don't have a leg to stand on.

Women bishops is one more step on the road to equality

SIR Leah Manning, former MP for Harlow and Epping, was first elected to Parliament in 1931 as Labour MP for Islington East.

Speaking in the House of Commons in 1931 on the Church of England Assembly Powers, she pleaded for the appointment of women bishops in the Church of England and expressed her deep concern that women were not included in the Bill. Now, 83 years on, her wish has been realised. She would be so delighted!

A little step further along the road to equality for 51 per cent of the population!

All but six councillors have failed to acknowledge letter

SIR Following the local election in which twice as many people did not vote as voted in total for all the candidates, I sent an email to each of the 33 councillors about the way local democracy was being undermined. My hope was that as elected councillors they might share my concern and lend encouragement and support in engaging in a non-party debate where the issues could be explored and a variety of solutions found which might reverse this trend. I received a very prompt and courteous response from new council leader Jon Clempner and was greatly encouraged. However, I received not a single further acknowledgement, let alone reply, from any other councillor. Unwilling to believe that elected members were so discourteous as to ignore such an appeal, a fortnight later I sent a futher copy by post to their home addresses in the hope that these might be more certain to reach them. The result was five further responses, three from members of the cabinet and one each from a Labour and a Conservative councillor. Twenty-seven have still failed to acknowledge my letter. It appears they have been so politically neutered as to be unable to express even an opinion. I wonder if they realise this is just the sort of behaviour which increases the public disillusionment with politicians.

Help us raise awareness of plight of UK polio survivors

SIR When I was two years old I was struck down by polio. I was fortunate to have survived the virus that has killed so many. There are around 120,000 polio survivors living in Britain and I am proud to be counted as one of them. But it really saddens me that all too often I hear people speak of polio as being a disease of the past in Britain when in fact there are many thousands of people, just like me, who are still living with the devastating effects of the virus. For that reason I teamed up with the British Polio Fellowship and am honoured to be their ambassador, raising awareness about the often unspoken, hidden plight of the UK's polio survivors. Star readers may have seen me unveiling an amazing dress specifically designed to accommodate a wheelchair. It was designed by Aleah Leigh from 3,500 recycled train tickets to help illustrate that something forgotten can once again not only capture people's attention - but can have a true, valuable purpose in ways people had not imagined. Just like polio survivors. I want polio to capture people's attention again. The effects of the virus still affects people in the UK and for many of them life is about to get a whole lot harder. Post-Polio Syndrome will affect 80 per cent of polio survivors; it makes limbs more painful and mobility even more difficult. We are in great need of your readers' support and attention, so please don't ignore us. Google The British Polio Fellowship and discover the fantastic work they do, and consider supporting the charity.

I struggled to read the tiny print on bottle of eye drops

SIR Recently I had an accident with kettle descaler that splashed into my eyes. I have been treated at the eye clinic at Princess Alexandra Hospital. I was given eye drops and ointment which last three weeks that are working ... but slowly. However, it amazes me how tiny boxes containing eye drops etc have the tiniest print on them making it a struggle to read even with glasses and using a magnifying glass. Leaflets with large print given with the eye medication would be a help.

Students join D-Day veterans at Cenotaph service

PUPILS and staff from a Harlow school were invited to attend a service of remembrance held at the Cenotaph to mark the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings.

Among the group from Stewards Academy, in Parnall Road, were four pupils who in June met the Duchess of Cornwall when they travelled to Normandy with members of the Normandy Veterans Association for a service of commemoration.

Chairman of governors Jeff Tarling, whose father took part in the landings, and governor Paul Rogers also attended the service in London.

Assistant headteacher Marie Erwood said: "This is the second such service we have had the honour to attend at the Cenotaph and the impact it has on the pupils will stay with them forever.

"To see them wheel the veterans, who we have come to know and love, around the Cenotaph and wearing their Stewards Academy uniforms with pride was very emotional. Their families, the staff and governors and I were so very proud of them.

"We were the only school in the country to be invited and we did so with huge pride."

98 roads in Harlow on urgent repair list

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ESSEX County Council has published a list of 700 local roads it has earmarked for repair in a £17.5m maintenance programme – including 98 in Harlow.

The roads have been identified as in need of urgent attention and County Hall has doubled the number of crews to undertake the work.

County councillor Rodney Bass, cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "These roads are in urgent need of repair and we are making the manpower available to get the job done.

"We have recently doubled the number of maintenance crews to 36 to bring the county's roads up to standard."

The 36 crews will also fix all current carriageway defects on the main roads (priority 1 and priority 2 networks) and rural local roads by the end of March next year.

Essex County Council divides its highways network into three categories:

- county route (priority 1) – strategic roads with the highest volumes of traffic;

- county route (priority 2) – roads which provide an essential traffic management function between the priority 1 network and local roads;

- local roads – all other roads maintained by the authority.

The council's latest figures show that in Harlow the number of potholes on priority 1 roads has increased in three months to July from 64 to 89, with defects on local roads going up from 632 in the three months to March to 654.

Road rage killer back in jail for dangerous driving

A MOTORIST who served a prison sentence for a road rage crash in Harlow in 2004 in which a seven-week-old baby girl died is back behind bars after committing another driving offence.

David Waterman was jailed for 21 months and banned from driving for five years after a court heard how he pursued a pedestrian with whom he had an argument and forcing him to leap into a rose bush to get out of the way.

St Albans Crown Court heard that Waterman was working in a shop in Bishop's Stortford on January 8 last year when he was involved in the argument with Callum McCrimmon.

As he left the premises Mr McCrimmon encountered Waterman's wife and told her to "have a word" with her husband. She alleged he threatened her and pulled out a Stanley knife, something Mr McCrimmon denied.

Giving evidence, Mr McCrimmon said he was walking down the road when he heard Waterman's car. "The vehicle was coming from behind," he said. "I could hear the engine, I leaped out of the way."

"He was half on the road and half on the pavement. He stopped. The car was very close. I was really mad."

Mr McCrimmon said he went to the driver's side of the car. "He wound the window up, reversed and laughed at me like it was a complete game. He reversed so he could have a good run up."

He said he ran into his neighbour's garden in Haymeads Lane and jumped into a rose bush as Waterman drove at him again.

Waterman, of Walnut Drive, Bishop's Stortford, denied wanting to harm Mr McCrimmon but admitted he wanted to "scare the life out of him".

"I was not trying to hit him," he said. "I wanted him to realise he shouldn't mess with my family."

The jury cleared Waterman of intending to cause grievous bodily harm. He admitted dangerous driving.

At Chelmsford Crown Court in 2005, Waterman - then 24 and living in Bury Road, Old Harlow - was sentenced to 10 years in jail for deliberately ramming another car and pushing it into the path of oncoming traffic on the A14 in Harlow on March 29, 2004.

In the car were Gary Bradshaw, his wife Lindi and their seven-week-old daughter Tara. Mr and Mrs Bradshaw survived the collision but their baby sustained fatal head injuries.

Waterman claimed he was not driving the car but was convicted by a jury.

At the time judge Rodger Hayward told Waterman: "You have told lie after lie after lie. You have shown no remorse whatsoever for what you did. "This was an appalling and deliberate piece of driving which culminated in a fatal collision. You knew perfectly well you had caused a serious accident."

"You later described to work colleagues and others what had happened... but you didn't stop. Instead, you sped off and went to work."

Tara's devastated parents said after that case ended: "David Waterman will never truly understand or realise the pain and hurt he has put us through."

"Having to watch our precious child lie in hospital knowing that she was not going to make it was the most painful thing we have ever had to experience."

Referring to Waterman, they said: "He has never showed any sympathy or remorse for what he has done to our lives. He has lied about everything. David Waterman is a cruel and heartless person."

"He has smirked at us, grinned, winked, laughed and even blown a kiss. We hate him so much for what he has done to our lives. This is something he will never realise or feel sorry for."

Prize time for poster winners

TWO pupils from a Harlow primary school have been named winners of a health and safety poster competition.

Housing developer Miller Homes South set children at Tany's Dell Community School, in Mowbray Road, the task of designing a poster to highlight the dangers of building sites.

The overall winner was 11-year-old Emma Lea Bailey, who received £50 worth of WHSmith vouchers. The runner-up was Karolina Gustaite, seven, who won £20 worth of vouchers.

Headteacher Bernadette Miele said: "The children really enjoyed the activity and the standard of the posters produced was excellent. They learned some valuable lessons about safety on site, too, so the competition was really worthwhile."

Tracey Lee, sales director for Miller Homes South, added: "With so many imaginative and stand out entries, it made picking a winner very difficult."

"Everyone who got involved should be really proud of their efforts. All the children had clearly spent a lot of time working on their designs and it's extremely important to raise awareness surrounding the dangers of building sites."

MP criticises senior police for failing to deal with travellers

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

SENIOR police officers are using human rights and equalities legislation as a "barrier to action" over travellers in Harlow, according to town's Conservative MP.

Robert Halfon, who has sent 1,000 letters to residents addressing the matter, made the comments following a meeting with Essex Police and Crime Commissioner Nick Alston during which he addressed concerns over illegal traveller encampments at sites in the town.

It was arranged by Mr Halfon who also invited local and county councillors as well as other representatives of the community to attend the meeting and visit the sites.

"The impression that I had was that whilst Harlow police officers are doing everything possible, senior Essex police officers are using human rights and equalities legislation as a barrier to action and have been inconsistent with dealing with the different traveller sites," he told the Star.

Taken to the cleaners

Cost of clearing up after travellers tops £7,000 ... and it's council taxpayers who foot the bill

FLASHBACK: Star, July 10

"There is more than enough legislation to deal with illegal traveller encampments. It is also important to remember that where there is a will, there is a way."

He added: "I am continuing to make representations to all authorities to encourage them to use the law to its full force. Believe me, if I could wave a magic wand I would have done it a long time ago."

"The police should have a zero tolerance approach to those who spoil our town and break the law. If this had happened at the start we might not be facing our current problems."

Mr Alston, who was elected as the county's police and crime commissioner in November 2012, said he felt there had been a "frank and open exchange of views" at the meeting.

He said: "Unfortunately, I had a long standing and pre-existing commitment which meant that I was not able to join the tour."

"I will continue to listen to the voices of all the communities of Essex and my own actions will be determined by a clear set of principles."

Mr Alston added: "Firstly, my expectation is that Essex Police continues to deal with illegality and unlawful behaviour fairly and firmly, acting on the basis of the available evidence."

"Secondly, there needs to be co-ordinated working between all the parties and, thirdly, councils across the country are encouraged to ensure there is adequate provision for travellers in their area."

"I am disappointed that there is not a single transit site for travellers in our county, as the provision of such an area might help to prevent some of the frustration which we are seeing in Harlow."

FAREWELL: Youngsters at Raindrops Day Nursery celebrate their graduation

Graduation day for nursery tots as they prepare to move on to school

YOUNGSTERS at Harlow nursery were treated to a farewell party by staff, parents and grandparents as they prepare for their next step in school life.

The tots at Raindrops Day Nursery, in Little Grove Field, dressed up in graduation robes and mortar boards to mark the end of their time at nursery.

They were presented with certificates and had the chance to tuck into a buffet and enjoying a celebration dance.

Nursery manager Christine Chaffe said: "Everyone had a good time, and there were many proud parents and grandparents to see their children graduate.

"All the staff at Raindrops wish the children the best of luck as they move onto school."

The nursery, which is based within the Meadows Children's Centre, recently secured an outstanding rating in its latest Ofsted inspection.

Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner said: "Early years provision in particular can set young people off on the right path to a lifelong love of learning."

"It is particularly pleasing for the council, therefore, to see that Raindrops Day Nursery is continuing to set an outstanding example."

Volunteers needed for support group

A GROUP providing support and information to people in Harlow with Parkinson's is searching for more helpers.

The branch of Parkinson's UK is in "desperate" need of a volunteer driver to pick up and drop off members at the weekly get-togethers.

It is also seeking kitchen volunteers to set the table, do the washing up, serve tea and coffee and cut the cake.

"A volunteer driver is crucial," said branch chairman Patrick Marchant. "We have 30 to 40 people attend our weekly sessions and it is very important to have volunteers that can help us continue."

"Anyone with Parkinson's is welcome to join us and it is crucial to us that we have a volunteer driver who can do pick-ups and drop offs. "We also need volunteers in the kitchen. Although there won't be any cooking they will prepare the food we do have and serve drinks and such.

"We have some lovely ladies in the kitchen at the moment but need some more to help out."

The branch meets at the David Livingstone Centre, in Potter Street, once a week. Anyone interested in volunteering should call 0844 225 3615.

£1,300 raised for Help for Heroes

SHOPPERS at Asda showed their generosity when they managed to raise £1,300 for Help for Heroes.

The store hosted a bucket collection and sold merchandise for the armed forces charity.

Asda community life champion, Rachel Forth, said: "All the Asdas in the county had a Help for Heroes weekend and here at Harlow we managed to raise £1,300 which is amazing."

"Customers loved the atmosphere and lots of children had cuddles with Hero Bear who is always popular when he visits the store."

"Help for Heroes is a great charity and we're really pleased to have raised so much."

Members offer a helping hand

MEMBERS of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints took part in a Helping Hands Day in Harlow.

The group joined forces with Harlow Council to volunteer at a number of places in Harlow including at the Walled Garden, where volunteers constructed compost bins for recycling garden waste and clearing vegetation.

Volunteers also carried out weeding and tree and shrub pruning at the sensory garden, while another group spent time at Parndon Wood Nature Reserve clearing around a pond, cutting vegetation along the paths and picking up litter around the area.

Diabetes group to hold fun day

THE Friends Diabetes Support Group will be hosting a summer fun day in Harlow for families living with diabetes.

The event will take place at Passmore Academy on Sunday, and will include garden games and a bouncy castle.

Guests are invited to bring their own food and drink as well as chairs and blankets for the bumper-sized picnic.

Anyone interested in attending the picnic is asked by the Friends Diabetes Support Group to get in touch to confirm their attendance by emailing friendsdiabetesgroup@gmail.com or by calling 07958 497615.

The fun day will be held at the Traces Road school from noon-4pm.

School team heads to Yorkshire for 3 peaks challenge

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEAM of 50 staff and friends of a Harlow secondary school took on a mammoth walking challenge to raise money for No Child Without.

The group from Passmore Academy travelled north to complete the Yorkshire 3 Peak Challenge - a 24.5 mile route which takes in the Pen-Y-Ghent, Wharfedale and Ingleborough mountains in 12 hours or under.

No Child Without was started last year to provide financial support for young people in Harlow so that students can access educational and extra-curricular opportunities.

Passmore teacher Dave Archer, who started the charity, said: "We completed the Three Peaks last year when we climbed Ben Nevis, Scafell Pike and Mount Snowdon and we fancied another challenge this year."

"This was more of an endurance event as it was a continuous walk. The challenge ran smoothly but was hard work, especially with the weather being against us.

"But everyone on the challenge showed a real determination to push themselves as far and hard as they could. The mountain climbs were not as long but the continued walking for 11-and-a-half hours really made it a tough event."

The group have raised about £2,000 so far and are still collecting sponsorship money.

Dave added: "The most memorable moment for me was the togetherness of everyone clapping each other and greeting each other at the finishing point, especially as everyone who completed the challenge did so in under the 12 hour target."

To sponsor the team, visit www.justgiving.com/nochildwithout or to find out more about the charity visit www.nochildwithout.co.uk.

Did you see black 4x4 parked outside house at the time of burglary?

POLICE want to trace three people who were seen in a 4x4-style Mercedes parked outside a house in Harlow at the time of a burglary.

The black car was seen in Hilly Field, Harlow between 6pm and 6.20pm on Saturday, July 12.

It is thought the car was being driven by a woman. A man and a youth then got out of the vehicle and went to the house and knocked at the door before going down the side of the property.

The householders returned home later to find that French doors at the rear had been forced open and a number of items had been stolen.

The first suspect is described as white, aged 15-16 and 5ft tall. He was of slight build with fair hair and was wearing jeans and a hooded top.

The second suspect was white, aged in his 20s, around 6ft tall and of skinny build with short brown hair. He was also wearing jeans and a hooded top.

Anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 101.

Police search for driver who ran away after crashing van

POLICE were called to Potters Field in Harlow following reports that a white Ford Transit van had been stolen.

The van was later found after crashing in Spinning Wheel Mead. The driver was seen running off towards the Fern Hill area.

The man is described as white, in his late 20s with short curly hair and was wearing a white t-shirt. He also had a large watch on his left wrist.

Anyone with information should call Harlow police on 101.

Nina inspired to take on a hair-raising challenge

A FUNDRAISER has shaved off all her hair after being inspired by her friend's battle with bladder cancer.

Nina Jagers, 54, of Little Grove Field, had her hair shaved off at Brogues Barbers, in West Gate, last Tuesday in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support's Shave or Style campaign.

The mum-of-two, who is part of a choir in Harlow, decided to take part after seeing her friend Amanda Connor diagnosed with cancer.

"Amanda is such a trooper and as I can't really take part in the runs or walks I thought this would be a great way of showing my support for Macmillan," said Nina.

"Amanda has said she is really proud but to be honest, after all she has gone through, shaving my hair is a small feat

"I didn't feel nervous at all; it has made me feel very humble. I feel I can understand a little bit of how it must feel to lose your hair."

Tories beaten in attempt to lower EU flag

A CONSERVATIVE move to replace the EU flag at Harlow Civic Centre with the Cross of St George has been blocked by the ruling Labour group.

Tory councillors said their motion showed they were listening to the views of voters who were opposed to further political union with Europe.

But the Labour group said the move was "clearly designed for narrow political posturing" and was "unnecessary".

Cllr Joel Charles, deputy leader of Harlow Conservatives, said: "Only a Conservative government promises to renegotiate Britain's relationship in Europe and offer Harlow the final say with an in-out referendum.

"Labour councillors proved they are not interested in what residents have to say on the European Union.

"By taking down the European Union flag and replacing it with the Cross of St George we would have sent a message to residents that the council is listening to them."

He added: "It is also important to recapture the Cross of St George from groups who use our national flag for the wrong reasons. We should not be afraid of celebrating our national identity within the United Kingdom.

GEMMA GARDNER

"There is no longer any legal reason why we have to fly the EU flag, so why do we do it?"

He insisted Conservative councillors were not anti-European and viewed the UK's relationship with other European countries as important as it is with all our other global neighbours."

After the meeting, Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner responded: "The last time I checked, the country that Harlow was in was the United Kingdom. It's even in the name of the party that this motion seems to be designed to appeal to.

"We already fly the Union Jack outside the Civic Centre and elsewhere in the town and I have no objection to flying the Cross of St George on those occasions that warrant it – such as on St George's day.

"In short, this motion is clearly designed for narrow political posturing, is flawed in its reasoning, and quite frankly is unnecessary."

Police teams share the spoils in charity football match

HONOURS were even when Harlow Police drew 3-3 against an RAF police team in a charity football match for Help For Heroes.

The game was the main attraction at The Link, in Parsloe Road, on Saturday. PCSO Stuart Burt, who manages the police football team - Harlow LPA Football Club - decided to host the fundraising day in aid of the armed forces charity after being invited to play against the RAF.

Co-organiser Jen Webb's son is currently deployed in Afghanistan as a helicopter pilot.

There were also two junior football matches, a barbeque, bar, music, face painting, a raffle and a bouncy castle.

Entry to the event was free but a bucket collection by members of The Link staff raised more than £1,000 for Help For Heroes.

Stopping rail trespassers in their tracks

BRITISH Transport Police is cracking down on trespassing on railways across Essex as part of a national campaign.

There have been three reported incidents of trespassing in Harlow this year.

They include a person walking off the platform, a man being spotted in bushes by the side of the track and another involving a teenage boy who got onto the track and hid behind a portable building before being found by officers.

Nationally, as many as 14 children and young adults a day take a risk by trespassing on the railway. More than half of all railway trespassers are aged 14-25.

The new Operation Intruder campaign places an emphasis on prevention rather than punishment.

During the next few weeks transport police will be targeting trespass hotspots. They will carry out increased patrols in a bid to ward off would-be trespassers who either think the track is a place to congregate or commit vandalism.

BTP is enlisting the help of other police forces and the rail industry, including the use of helicopters, to report trespassers. Officers will also report any damage to railway property for repair.

Chief Inspector Tom Naughton said: "Children and young adults need to understand the dangers of the railway."

"While taking trespassers through the courts remains open to BTP, the main focus of this campaign is prevention – stopping people getting on the track in the first place."

"Our officers have already visited a number of schools to warn children and we need parents to play their part in making children aware of how dangerous a place the railway can be."

Pair praised by academy trust

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE vice-principal and the chairman of governors at two of Harlow's academies have been recognised for their dedication and hard work in helping move their schools forward over the past year.

More than 50 pupils, parents, staff and guests gathered to celebrate the achievements of the Academy Transformation Trust's schools at a presentation afternoon held at the House of Commons.

Mark Hall Academy vice-principal Allan Osborne was nominated for an award by principal Corinne Franceschi in recognition of "his tireless, relentless and incisive work as a senior leading during a challenging first year as an academy".

And Kingsmoor Academy's chairman of governors Sarah Stapleton was nominated by principal Isobel Barron for her "determination to support and challenge the academy to achieve all it can".

Both received their awards from Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

Joyce Hodgetts, managing director of Academy Transformation Trust, said: "It was a great pleasure to recognise their outstanding contributions to their academies and to celebrate with them as a reward for their efforts and hard work."

"Allan has motivated and inspired the Mark Hall Academy staff to raise standards and improve performance, leading a transformation in the culture of teaching and learning."

"Sarah continues to challenge individuals at Kingsmoor Academy and the trust to ensure that all decisions taken are done with the children at the very centre of everything we do."

"She is a great chairwoman and a role model to others in a similar position."

Aldi opens new store with golden giveaway

HARLOW'S new Aldi supermarket opened its doors at 8am today (Thursday).

Golden envelopes containing tickets to win prizes were handed out to the first 100 customers. The store also provided a range of hot and cold food samples for shoppers throughout the opening morning.

Aldi will also be supporting local community groups and is working with the Burnt Mill

Children's Centre and the Salvation Army.

Store manager Anthony Matthews said: "We are very excited about our involvement within the community and look forward to working with more community groups in the future."

The store at The Stow, which has created 35 jobs, has more than 80 car parking spaces.

The store will be open Monday to Saturday from 8am-10pm and Sunday 10am-4pm.

More trains on rail operator's new timetable

SERVICES have doubled on the busy Cambridge to Stansted Airport rail corridor.

An additional eight trains are now running in both directions from Monday to Friday, providing an extra 1,700 seats.

The new timetable was launched last Monday by rail minister Claire Perry. It is part of the direct award franchise agreement between Abellio Greater Anglia and the Department for Transport to enhance the existing timetable operated by CrossCountry.

New services leave from Cambridge at 09.31, 10.26, 11.26, 12.26, 13.26, 14.26, 15.26 and 21.46.

In the opposite direction, trains leave Stansted Airport at 10.05, 11.05, 12.05, 13.05, 14.05, 15.05, 16.05 and 22.05.

Mrs Perry said: "Strong transport links are the key to our long-term economic plan, which is why we are investing £38bn over the next five years on maintaining and improving our railways."

"I am pleased to see companies like Abellio, CrossCountry and Stansted Airport working together to give passengers better services."

Young hairdressers make competition final

A HAIR training academy has produced a wealth of talent after a number of students made it through to the final of a hair competition.

Harlow Training Academy, which offers hairdressing training to stylists across the region, entered some of its students into Essex-based Central Hairdressing Academy's photographic hair competition.

This year, apprentices from Avant Garde, DG & Co, Millers, Charlie Brown's, Legends and Seven succeeded in making it through to the grand final of the event, which takes place in September at the Wella World Studio, London.

Pasquale Pellecchia, of the Harlow Training

Academy, said: "The reason we established the academy was to offer the highest quality training we could. The success of our trainees proves that, working in conjunction with Central, we have achieved our aim."

"The standard of work produced by our learners was incredible and to have eight go through to the overall final is an amazing achievement."

Jack Wagstaff, Katie Rich, Molly Edwards, Lewis Criddle, Katy Harris, Evie Wade, Daniel Matthews and Alex Jordan will now compete in the grand final.

The academy work with Passmores, Stewards and Burnt Mill Academy to promote learning and future employment.

Gold award for lettings agency

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

LETTINGS agency Intercounty, which has a branch in Old Harlow is celebrating after striking gold at the "industry's Oscars".

The business was named best medium lettings agency in the East of England at the Lettings Agency of the Year Awards 2014.

Richard Durrant, Intercounty's lettings director, said: "We are particularly humbled as this is the third lettings award won in succession and would like to thank our clients for the recognition."

More than 500 leading lettings agents from across the UK attended the ceremony at The Lancaster London Hotel.

A panel of 21 industry experts assessed initial entry submissions before conducting an extensive review of the entrants, which included telephone interviews and mystery shopping exercises.

The judges said: "Intercounty is very well run business, the directors are extremely forward thinking in their approach and seek to keep the team informed of any pertinent developments and news."

"They make an effort to maintain a presence at all levels and work at the coalface of agency. Every Friday, the managing director and director spend time on customer care calls, the results of which they then relay back to their staff in training sessions, with great feedback being rewarded."

"Rewards are wide ranging and are chosen because the both incentivise the staff and are fun."

"There is a strong focus on corporate social responsibility and each member of staff is allowed one day per year to engage with the community and work with a charity of their choice."

"The agency enjoys an established and trusted presence in the community and this is reflected in the bottom line."

Police act to help victims of domestic abuse

ESSEX Police has used new legislation to protect women believed to be at risk of domestic violence 54 times since the system went live eight weeks ago.

Superintendents have authorised the use of Domestic Violence Protection Notices in cases where reports have been received of domestic-related incidents but there has been insufficient evidence to charge suspects with a crime.

The notices can order the suspects to leave the premises where the incident occurred, prevent them from entering the homes of the alleged victims and stop them from making any further contact with them, as well as further provisions.

Adam Hunt, head of legal services at Essex Police, said: "We have set up a new legal team to handle all of these cases and it is testament to their expertise and knowledge that every single DVPO application we have taken to court so far has been approved."

"We will continue to put together the best possible case in support of our officers who are making use of this new legislation to protect vulnerable women and men."

Detective Inspector Nick Burston, of Essex Police public protection unit, said: "A DVPO can bridge the gap in providing immediate emergency protection to a victim where there is a risk of violence."

"If someone breaches a notice they can be subject to immediate arrest and can then be remanded in custody to appear before a court for a full order to be considered."

A breach of an order can lead to a maximum fine of £5,000 or a two-month prison sentence.

RAF fighter jets are scrambled as plane falls silent

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

RAF fighter jets were scrambled and flights in and out of Stansted Airport were suspended after the pilot of a private plane forgot a radio frequency!

The Ministry of Defence said that two Typhoon planes from RAF Coningsby in Lincolnshire accompanied the civilian plane flying into Stansted last Wednesday evening.

An Essex Police spokesman said: "Military jets were deployed on a precautionary basis when a private jet was diverted to Stansted. This was due to a loss of communication with the aircraft."

"The aircraft landed safely at Stansted at 7.49pm. All three people who were on board have been spoken to by police. It was established that everything was in order and the police response was stood down."

A spokesman for the airport said that the incident was the result of an incoming Gulfstream IV jet losing communication with air traffic control at Stansted.

The fighter jets continued to circle over the area until the American-registered N990EA plane had landed and taxied off the runway.

The spokesman said that the runway was closed for about 15 minutes, during which time all departures and arrivals were suspended.

A scheduled Ryanair flight from Alicante in Spain, which was due to arrive at 8pm, was diverted to Luton.

A loud noise was heard over Harlow, Bishop's Stortford and Stansted soon after 7pm. People took to Twitter to report what they had seen and heard.

CB Sound Video Light, of Harlow, tweeted: "Just seen a jet in Harlow flying very close to a normal commercial plane over Ladysshot area."

The MoD said that contrary to reports on social media there had not been a sonic boom, but this was met with disbelief by some.

But Jon Ward, a pilot, tweeted: "Contrary to MoD reports we did get a sonic boom this evening."

And Darren King added: "If it wasn't a sonic boom, what was it? Blew the net curtains!"

Reality stars join forces for a TOWIE-style show

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FILMING of a new reality show set to rival The Only Way is Essex has been taking place in Harlow.

YOLO UK (You Only Live Once UK) brings together a cast of former contestants from the reality shows Big Brother, The Voice UK, Britain's Got Talent, X Factor and Take Me Out.

It will be similar in style to TOWIE, a structured reality soap in which people are put into situations but the lines are unscripted.

Producer and cameraman Pete Meads said: "It's similar-ish to TOWIE but it's more interesting. We've got a little bit more going on."

The show will look at the lives of real people, complete with scandals, love triangles, banter, entertainment and famous faces.

Former Big Brother housemate Victor Ebuwa, who was in the fifth series, is one of the directors of the show, as well as one of the stars.

The other actors include former Big Brother housemate Billi Bhatti, from the eighth series, ex-The Voice UK contestant Lewis Clay and Derry Mansah, who tried out for X Factor in 2011.

Some scenes have already been filmed in Harlow and there are plans to shoot the series across Essex, Hertfordshire and London.

KEEPING IT REAL: Former Big Brother housemates Victor Ebuwa, Billi Bhatti and Aden Theobald are among the stars taking part in YOLO UK.

Mr Meads said: "It's going well. We've got a main cast of about 10 people and there's been a lot of interest."

The show aims to tackle hard subjects. Mr Meads said: "We've got to be selective about what we talk about, but it's all about realism."

"Each cast member will have their own character and the audience can relate to them and their history and where they are going in the future."

The idea is to film a 10-part series of 20-minute clips to go online on the YouTube video sharing website.

From that, it is hoped that the series will gain enough interest to be commissioned for a TV pilot.

Mr Meads said: "Some of the cast members have a huge following. Some have more than 100,000 followers on Twitter and Facebook."

"By going online we are hoping that it will get enough hits to attract the TV broadcasters."

The team also hopes to have cameo appearances by guest stars as the series continues.

Former Coronation Street actress Helen Flanagan and ex-EastEnders actor Jamie Lomas are among the names that the producers are considering approaching.

The online series is due to be broadcast from the middle of August and the team hopes to land a TV spot by this time next year.

ITV2, Channel 4 and Channel 5 are among the broadcasters being targeted.

Hospice reaps rewards of gardeners' fabulous flowers and stunning shrubs

FLOWER power raised more than £6,000 for St Clare Hospice when visitors were given the chance to view private gardens as part of the Harlow Open Gardens Weekend.

Hundreds of people took the opportunity to look around 29 of the best-kept outdoor spaces in Harlow, Church Langley and Hastingwood during the two-day fundraiser organised by the Harlow Friends of St Clare.

Event stalwart Ann Gould, who organised the very first open gardens in 1994, said: "Every year has been a success and as the years have passed the money collected has grown and grown."

"This year there were 28 gardens and one allotment on show. Visitors kept coming to the gardens, enjoying the plants and homemade cakes, teas, coffees and ploughman's lunches."

Many of the those who opened their gardens to the public for the hospice also organised live music, gift stalls and plant sales as well as refreshments and held raffles to help boost funds.

The weekend raised £5,658 with Barclays Bank donating a further £750.

Pictured in their garden at Hastingwood are Viv Chipperfield and her daughter Claire.

Harlow Running Club celebrates 25th anniversary

HARLOW Running Club has, arguably, become one of the biggest groups in town and it continues to grow as it celebrates its 25th anniversary this year.

The club, which meets twice a week, officially turned 25 in January but members have been using the whole year to celebrate with a host of events - including the recent Harlow 10-Mile which saw 199 runners take part.

It officially started on January 12, 1989 with just 12 runners - three who are still members. Membership has grown to 131.

Many of the group's runners compete in races - from 5k to marathons - around the world and have won a variety of awards and medals.

Club chairman Dave Page, 51, of Hatfield Heath has been running for 10 years and attended the club in 2009.

Mr Page, who is head of Europe, Middle East and Africa technology for a global bank, lived in Harlow as a young man and attended the former Passmores School in Tendring Road.

He said: "My wife and I had been running together for around 10 years, entering many local and national events. We knew a few people at the club who were very friendly and encouraged us to join."

"We wanted to improve our running performance and looked to the club for hints and tips, training plans and regular training days. Once we had joined we couldn't explain why we hadn't joined much sooner."

"Meeting up to run two or three times a week with like-minded people is a great motivator and really enjoyable, you soon realise with running that you only get out of it what you put in."

"The club has excellent facilities being based at Mark Hall Sport Centre."

"We are a very inclusive club and run a beginners group to introduce new runners to the sport. To see a new member go through the beginners group and join the main club evenings, improving their fitness and self-confidence, which often go hand in hand, is very satisfying."

Mr Page, who said running was a great stress release that helps him manage his day-to-day workload a little better, thinks

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

the club's longevity is down to its clear focus.

"I think the club has persisted for so long due to its members and committee having a focus on no frills running and competing," he added.

"Costs for taking up the sport and joining the club are low so it is a very inclusive sport. My experience has been that members of the club are so welcoming that all members are encouraged to run frequently and to the best of their ability."

"There is a strong social aspect to the club also, whether that is chatting to a friend on the Thursday evening run or attending one of the social events. Members have the opportunity to relax with their running club colleagues and build real friendships."

Internal recruitment consultant Louise Tankard, 26, of Church Langley, joined the club two months ago and has also found the club to have a great social aspect.

"Before I joined I was worried that I may not be up to scratch with the other runners and definitely put off joining because I was worried I might not get on with anyone," she said. "It is so totally different I can't believe it took me so long to join."

"The biggest thing for me is the people themselves. I felt so welcome by the club."

"There is a great social aspect with pub runs through the summer and social events, car sharing to the races, a Facebook page where there is always a lot of banter and so much support from everyone."

"There is no pressure to win or to race for the club or even to go to training sessions. You just do whatever you want to do and there is consistently a fantastic team spirit."

Louise, who joined HRC as she wanted to increase her distances and start competing in races, added: "There are so many different levels of runners you always have someone to run with."

"The routes are great, really well planned and always varied and, for me, there is always people racing at the weekends and they can all tell you the good ones to pick."

Four-winged dinosaur

THE remains of a four-winged dinosaur with exceptionally long feathers on its tail and hindwings have been discovered in the Far East.

Changyuraptor yangi was a gliding predator which lived during the Cretaceous period in what is now Liaoning, China.

Its remarkable tail feathers - measuring up to 30cm - are the longest of any non-avian dinosaur.

According to experts, it is thought this unusual plumage helped the creature to slow down during flight and land safely.

These ancient creatures may offer clues to the origin of flight - and the transition from feathered dinosaurs to birds.

Teacher picks up nomination for helping to 'improve many lives'

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A COMMITTED teacher who is loved and respected by her pupils has been nominated for a community award.

When Sue Davies, headteacher at Harlow Fields School and College, started at the school - which provides education for special needs pupils aged three to 19 - it was rated 'satisfactory' by Ofsted.

The school is now rated 'good' and is well on its way to becoming outstanding.

Ms Davies has now been nominated for a Heart 4 Harlow Community Award. The person who nominated her wrote: "Sue Davies came to the school at a time when it was in a poor state and had been without a substantive head teacher for a long time.

"She quickly instituted improvements and managed to reinvigorate staff and instil a real sense that what really mattered was that children learned in as positive an environment as possible. This was a mammoth task as in common with all special schools there is a large and varied workforce and in Harlow's case a rambling and inefficient site to work with.

"The school received a good rating at its last Ofsted and is well on the way to being outstanding. Sue's perseverance and intelligent but caring management style has been the determining factor in this progress.

"A totally committed professional who is truly loved and respected by some of the most disabled pupils and whose strengths have been recognised

US restaurant chain set to open in town

A RESTAURANT chain which claims US president Barack Obama as a fan is to open in Harlow.

The Five Guys burger & fries eatery is planning to open in The Water Gardens in October.

Since coming to prominence in Washington DC in 1986, Five Guys has become synonymous for having no freezers - just fresh ingredients.

Voted as having the "best $5 burger a man can eat" by GQ magazine, fans of the chain include President Obama, who has been pictured on numerous occasions ordering a Five Guys burger.

Five Guys will be taking over the Pizza Hut unit and will sit alongside Pizza Express, Frankie & Benny's, Nandos and Esquires.

Beryl Murphy, manager of The Water Gardens, said: "Five Guys is a five-star addition to the choice of quality eateries we have to offer at The Water Gardens.

"We're looking forward to welcoming Five Guys fanatics, who can choose from 250,000 possible combinations for their burgers, and showing them, as we hope to show all our customers, that we continue to raise our game as a retail destination.

"From Harlem Avenue in New York City to Harlow, this is an exciting time for The Water Gardens and Five Guys."

Pupils get an introduction to game of bowls

POTTER STREET ACADEMY Members of the Griffin Bowls Club spent the afternoon with Year 6 pupils to give them tips on how to play the game.

After being taught the best techniques to use in bowls, the youngsters from the Carters Mead school were divided into teams of boys and girls for a game which ended in victory for the girls.

Bowls club chairman Keith Jones said: "We had seven boys and seven girls with us and got them used to the bowls and how they bend on the grass before they played a match."

"The children seemed to thoroughly enjoy it and I know our members did too. We'd be happy to have more school students from Year 6 upwards come and join us and find out more about the sport and how to play."

Tots celebrate 25 years of a bear hunt

KIDDI CARU DAY NURSERY

Youngsters at the nursery in Kiln Lane, Harlow, celebrated a special anniversary with a picnic and taking part in a world record attempt.

The bear-themed celebration marked the 25th anniversary of the children's book We're Going On A Bear Hunt.

The children took along their favourite teddy for a teddy bear picnic in the nursery garden.

They also took part in a reading session with a difference by taking part in the Guinness World Record to break the record for the world's largest reading lesson.

Nursery manager Jennie

Gregory said: "We have had such a fun week and all the children and staff have really enjoyed celebrating this 25th anniversary."

Students travel to Germany on exchange trip

ST MARK'S CATHOLIC SCHOOL Students from the Tripton Road school visited Germany as part of an exchange trip with their European partners.

Twelve St Mark's pupils took part in a two-week exchange with students from St Ursula's in Geilenkirchen.

On their visit to Germany they visited Aachen and Düsseldorf, with a small group venturing across the border to Holland.

Year 10 pupil Bonita Katende said: "From taking part in this trip I have gained a new, amazing friend and have met awesome, humble people whilst in Germany."

A school spokesman said: "We are really grateful to the parents for supporting the exchange, and a big thanks to the pupils, not just those who took the plunge and went but the many others who made our guests so welcome."

A performance for young audiences

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AS the summer holidays start, parents will be looking for something to keep their youngsters entertained. Half-Term Productions are hoping they have the answer.

Award-winning playwright Simon Mawdsley and talented actor/director Caroline Petherbridge are performing a fun-packed, musical version of the classic fairytale Red Riding Hood at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow.

The play, which promises to be perfect for children aged from two to 11 years old, will be embracing the popular children's story with catchy songs, slapstick comedy and a moral that even the youngest of audience members will be able to relate to.

Director Caroline said: "Daytime shows for children are something we began at the Victoria Hall Theatre earlier this year and we had a massive response to our first production, The Hare and the Tortoise, when we staged it during the February half term holiday.

"This production has everything children enjoy. There are some great characters, catchy songs, fun slapstick and a moral. Added to that there are some great jokes, songs to join with and four fantastic performers playing the parts."

The performers are no strangers to the stage. Tasha Saxby, Yusuke Iizuka, Molly Jenkins and Cameron Marklew have all appeared in countless performances at the Victoria over the years.

Caroline added: "After each performance, all four actors do a meet and greet in the bar so that the children in the audience can meet them and perhaps have a photo with their favourite character.

"It rounds off the experience for the children and they find it quite enchanting to meet the actors in person."

Red Riding Hood will be at Victoria Hall Theatre from Tuesday, August 5 to Friday, August 8, with performances at 10.30am and 1pm.

>>> Tickets cost £7 for children and £9 for adults. They can be bought by visiting halftermproductions.ticketsource.co.uk or by calling 0333 666 3366.

Moving monologues and brutal wrestling combine to make an emotional evening

review

Living with Luke
Passmores Academy, Harlow

MOST actors will tell you that they try to be truthful in their acting and that they often feel exposed on stage.

Well, no actor will ever demonstrate that more than Steve Hannam playing himself, the father of his autistic son Luke, in Living With Luke.

Adapted from Mr Hannam's blog by playwright Paul T. Davies, (who also directed) Living With Luke spotlights the traumas experienced by a father who is gradually losing emotional contact with his son. It also shows the depth of love he has for Luke and his struggles to maintain his relationship with him as time passes.

The clever concept of the play was to set it in a wrestling ring where wrestler Danson Thunderbolt (Steve Hannam's nom de plume) has to fight another wrestler - The Autistic Shadow - in order to have any contact with his son. The Autistic Shadow has allowed Luke to drift away into Narnia and will not allow Danson to get near him.

Moving monologues from Danson interspersed with some brutal wrestling scenes made for an emotional evening. Providing insights into autism and, in particular the relationship between loving father and autistic son, Hannam's speeches were delivered with the heartfelt sincerity that can only come from someone who is living with a loved one with this condition.

Paul Tyrrell as The Autistic Shadow brought all his wrestling experience to bear with some terrifying wrestling routines as well as proving himself to be a very good actor, incurring the wrath of the audience who were encouraged to boo him by Shane Whitworth as the referee who also gave us some humour playing a number of other bewigged characters.

Luke himself was played by Ben Maytham, an accomplished actor who portrayed the autistic son with great sensitivity and, with his studied movements, speech patterns and reactions to his father, gave us some insight into the condition.

Most of the plaudits, however, should go to Hannam for such a brave and bravura performance and having the courage to offer us glimpses of his life with Luke and all the joy and heartache that it brings.

Thanks to the playwright's skill, there were lots of very funny moments to enjoy, without which the sadness of the story might have become unbearable but it is true to say that by the time the cast took their richly deserved standing ovation, most of the audience were in tears.

Living With Luke was a wonderful evening's theatre thanks to some great writing and directing, brilliant staging, intense acting and, above all, its subject matter.

Autism is a little understood condition and too few people have any knowledge of it. This play deserves a much wider audience and should be taken to schools and festivals but this requires money.

The Arts Council and other funding bodies should be looking at this and giving Living With Luke the help it deserves.

The threat to allotments

THIS summer, during National Allotments Week, many gardeners will be flying the flag for all those who love their allotments with commemorative events and grow-your-own celebrations.

But the event organiser, the National Allotment Society, is also promoting a much more serious message, highlighting the need to strengthen the protection for our remaining allotment sites and emphasising the benefits allotments bring to people and the environment.

Reports vary as to how many allotments there are in the UK today, with estimates ranging from 150,000 to 300,000.

In 1996 there were four people waiting for every 100 plots, but reports claim that has risen to 57 today, as the economic downturn and television programmes such as Gardeners' World and The Big Allotment Challenge have encouraged people to try self-sufficiency.

Allotments are protected by legislation, so if a statutory site – bought by the local council to use specifically for allotments – is sold off, the council is obliged to provide a replacement plot. However, what sort of site it is replaced with may be an issue for gardeners.

Di Appleyard, the society's

By Hannah Stephenson

marketing manager, explains: "Moving an allotment site could mean dismantling thriving, socially cohesive allotment communities that, as recent research has shown, are situated on land that is high in bio-diversity with healthy soil, producing a significant amount of locally grown food."

"Although legislation dictates that the plot holders must be offered an alternative growing space, it does not take into account the historical value and sense of place of the site or the damage that is done to the existing social networks. This element needs to be recognised and existing allotment sites should be valued and protected from disruption."

The real threat to plot holders, it seems, lies in the loss of council-owned land classed as a temporary site – which the council has claimed for something else, such as a school or a cemetery, but on which allotments have been built as a temporary measure.

"In such cases, plot holders should get the land registered as a community asset, which will give them a level of protection," Appleyard advises.

"A lot of councils have been

ON THE WEB
Gardening tips and news

www.harlowstar.co.uk

offloading allotments to groups of plot holders to self-manage. Locality, a network for community-led organisations (www.locality.org.uk) is a good starting point if you need help doing this."

The society is concerned that the recent relaxation of the planning regulations, along with the pressure on local councils to build much-needed new homes, may result in more councils opting to sell allotment land rather than allocating previously used land for that purpose.

"Don't wait for the rumours to start that an allotment in your area is going to be sold off to make a car park. Form an association or get together with other sites to get involved in a local plan. It's hard for a national organisation to lobby and change things because it's down to local councils to make their decisions about planning and development. Unless the community gets involved in it at an early stage, then it's probably too late," she adds.

"An allotment association can be a really dynamic group, keeping allotments in the public eye, lobbying councillors and organising fund-raising charitable events."

Band of misfits battle to save the galaxy

GUARDIANS OF THE GALAXY certificate 12A, 2h02m

FROM its visually stunning opening set to the funky strains of Come And Get Your Love by rock band Redbone, Guardians Of The Galaxy lends the Marvel Comics universe a delightful retro twang.

The sardonic anti-hero is seldom parted from his Walkman and he inspires his cohorts to greatness with repeated references to Kevin Bacon and Footloose.

Abducted from his parents as a child and raised by thieves led by blue-skinned tyrant Yondu (Michael Rooker), Peter Quill (Chris Pratt) is a thief for hire who steals a mystical orb sought by sadistic warlord Ronan (Lee Pace) and his army of Sakaarans.

Quill evades Ronan's clutches and eventually aligns himself with a motley crew of mercenaries comprising green-skinned assassin Gamora (Zoe Saldana), genetically engineered raccoon Rocket Groot (voiced by Vin Diesel) and vengeance-seeking warrior Drax the Destroyer (Dave Bautista), whose entire family was slaughtered by Ronan.

When Quinn learns the orb is an ancient artefact with the power to destroy the universe, he must put selfish desires to one side to repel Ronan and his underlings, including fearsome intergalactic hunter Korath (Djimon Hounsou).

As the slick special effects attest, the budget for this intergalactic romp is big - and so too are the laughs, courtesy of director James Gunn and co-writer Nicole Perlman.

Gunn certainly doesn't skimp on the spectacle. If anything, a couple of the outlandish set pieces are too long but he adds a comic twist to each deafening blast of pyrotechnics.

Guardians Of The Galaxy is a blast. Pratt brings swagger and dry wit to his emotionally wounded hero, while Saldana adds sass and sex appeal to her otherworldly assassin.

Bautista is marvellous as the hulk who takes everything literally but almost every scene is stolen by the computer-generated double-act of Rocket and Groot.

Cooper voices his feisty gun-toting furball with a wonderful blend of defiance and sarcasm and breaks hearts when it seems that he might be separated from his beloved sidekick forever.

Cameos from Benicio Del Toro and Glenn Close hint at a wider canvas of political intrigue that director Gunn will be keen to explore in a sequel pencilled in for release in 2017.

RACCOON (voiced by Liam Neeson) and his red bird sidekick Cardinal preside over the animal denizens of Liberty Park in the sprawling metropolis of Oakton City.

With winter fast approaching, every groundhog, squirrel, mouse and mole gathers supplies to add to the food store in the trunk of the great oak. Everyone, that is, except for mischievous squirrel Surly (Will Arnett), who has always ploughed a lone furrow.

"I'm independent, which means looking out for number one," Surly reminds fellow squirrels Andie (Katherine Heigl) and Grayson (Brendan Fraser).

But when a raid on a food cart goes disastrously wrong, Surly is banished to the city by the other animals. The ravenous rodent stumbles upon a store selling nuts and plots a daring heist with trusty rat pal Buddy (Rob Tinkler).

But little does Surly know that the new owner of the store is the leader of a gang of robbers who intend to tunnel from the shop's basement to First Oakton Bank and plunder the vault.

Four-bedroom cottage with views across village green

coverproperty

Location Green Tye, Much HadhamCategory Four-bedroom cottageAdditional Stylish kitchen/breakfast room, three reception rooms, large driveway, mature gardenGuide price £625,000Agent Mackay Property Agents, 25 Bell Street, Sawbridgeworth. Telephone (01279) 600567

ORIGINALLY two Victorian cottages, Rose Cottage is now a spacious family home in the heart of a pretty village with views across the green.

The two cottages were not only joined together but also added to while retaining plenty of original character.

On the ground floor is the entrance hall with doors leading off to a cloakroom and a large sitting room with patio doors opening onto the garden. A particular feature in the sitting room is the ornate fireplace.

Next to this is the dining room and a study.

The stylish kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of attractive wood units with contrasting work surfaces and tiled flooring.

There are recently installed windows at the front of the house which tilt and turn and there is also newly fitted carpet throughout.

On the first floor landing there are doors to all four bedrooms and the family bathroom, which features a modern luxury suite including separate bath and shower cubicle.

To the front of the house there is a large driveway with parking for three cars and side access through to a large mature rear garden. The shared Klargest drainage system was installed approximately two years ago and there is mains water, electricity and oil fired heating. The house has also been rewired throughout.

Green Tye is a small village less than five miles to the west of Bishop's Stortford. It has mostly period houses and cottages and is a short drive from Much Hadham or Sawbridgeworth.

Mackay Property Agents is handling the sale of this property. Call (01279) 600567 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

I'VE seen some 'recent research' results in this job. Good, bad and even a few ugly ones but a new one that landed on my desk this week really made me sit up and take notice.

According to insurance company Avis, when it comes to selling your home you need a new car on the drive!

Yes, you can forget that old chestnut about filling your house with the smell of percolating coffee or freshly baked bread. That's so last decade. Nowadays, what you really need is a gleaming top of the range car.

It might sound a little unbelievable but look at the statistics: Avis found that over 35 per cent of us believe a luxury car on the driveway will increase the value of a house and the value of that uplift is believed to be over £4,300.

What's more, we are so convinced by the idea that 12 per cent of us would even consider hiring or borrowing a luxury car during the sales process.

Avis also claims that 57 per cent of us notice if an expensive car is parked on the driveway, 34 per cent see it as a sign that it is a desirable area and 27 per cent as a sign it's a safe neighbourhood - all of which counts to a prospective buyer.

And before you nip out and borrow a car before your next viewing, you might want to know that the survey found that the top luxury brand is Mercedes, followed by Audi and then BMW. Women prefer convertibles and men saloons.

Just make sure the inside of the house lives up to any expectations created on the driveway.

On the market for £210,000

LOCATED at Old Orchard in Harlow, this link end-of-terrace property sits within a private development.

It has been much improved and features a large lounge and dining room as well as a luxury kitchen with an extensive range of white wall and base units.

There are three bedrooms and the rear is laid to patio.

Centurion Property has this property on its books. Call (01279) 417234 for full details or to make an appointment to view.

Buy this for £325,000

THIS semi-detached property at Ram Gorse in Harlow has been extended to create a spacious family home.

There are three bedrooms, a ground floor cloakroom, a utility room, dressing room and en-suite to the master bedroom.

To the front there is driveway parking and a detached garage.

Ram Gorse is just over half-a-mile from Harlow Town station and is also ideally situated for the town centre.

Call Haart of Harlow for further details on (01279) 443311.

Yours for £249,995

SITUATED in Woodhill - a popular area of Harlow along Southern Way and close to Latton Bush - this good size family home represents great value.

There are three bedrooms, two reception rooms and a conservatory.

There is also a ground floor bathroom while the three bedrooms have built-in wardrobes.

The property has a sunny, west-facing rear garden and a garage en-bloc.

For further details or to arrange a viewing, contact selling agents Reyland Johnson on (01279) 216216.

For sale at £339,995

MUSKET Brook Cottage at Paycock Road in Harlow is a well-presented, semi-detached property with plenty of charm and character.

There are three bedrooms, two reception rooms, an eye-catching kitchen and conservatory and even a hot tub room.

Outside a long driveway leads to a garage and there is a walled front garden. The rear garden is laid to lawn with trees and shrubs.

Call Apple Tree Homes in Harlow for further details of this property on (01279) 635975.

Ami's Comment

"The Relative True Value Of Your Home"

Even the most credible authorities tend to disagree on the rate of price change in the property market, leaving the humble consumer somewhat baffled!

The problem is the source of data that is used to make assumptions about the Market is so fickle.

For example, you could look at the latest Land Registry figures.

These record the volumes and prices of sales that completed potentially several months after the sale was agreed. But the thing is a lot can happen in that time such as the release of tax and economic data, talk of interest rate changes and then there is the media influence which all in all can make a vast difference to buyer sentiment!

You could also look at the figures supplied by property portals such as Rightmove, which interpret the relationship between the changes in the number of properties on the market and average asking prices, and the number of buyers registering within the previous month. Of course, asking prices are no reflection of sale prices although at Howick & Brooker we are proud of how often we achieve or even exceed our clients asking price!

As your local estate agent, we are acutely aware of what's happening in the market at any given point in time. We have a huge responsibility to get it right for our clients first time, and we take that responsibility very seriously. Ultimately, we find that the most reliable indicators lie in our ability to interpret the needs and comments of our buyers at local level. After all, it is today's buyers who determine the current value of your property!

We're currently experiencing an increase in buyer enquiries, which inevitably results in some great prices being achieved. So why not contact me for an informal chat about the value of your property and suggested marketing plans over a cup of tea or Coffee here at Gothic House?

You might be pleasantly surprised!

Mark is ready to go in his new Electronic Super Star 500S. The integrated sports styling kit totally appeals to the inner petrol-head – that's body-coloured side skirts, rear spoiler, and chrome exhaust, not to mention optional 16" alloys. Inside, sports seats with soccer-blue stitching and dark vinyl rear window drive the point home. And the all-new 7.7 TFT crystal digital display gives him his tech fix. TwinAir engine means low CO₂ emissions, and no head heat, hot from Harlow's sun. Harlow, Greater London.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Are you looking for another job? Or Are you looking for a career?

If you're looking for just another job, then you're not what we're looking for. If on the other hand you're looking for a career then you may be what we're after.

We are a publisher of newspapers, on a journey of transforming our business into something far more digital focused.
We report breaking news 24/7 - we build websites for our customers, we can make videos to showcase business, design online campaigns and still stay true to our roots of publishing great quality newspapers every week of the year.

We are passionate about what we do and we are striding further and further ahead of the competition, both in what we have to offer and our intelligence and consultative approach in selling it.
We are developing apps, building facebook pages and teaching our customers to use Twitter to benefit their businesses.

We currently have vacancies for Multi Media Territory Managers.
Starting salary between £23,000 - £25,000 - OTE £30,000

Based out of our Chelmsford office, and working remotely in a full time capacity, you will be focused on developing the success of our digital portfolio along with our print products and should be a natural and organised self-starter who takes pride in their work and sales results.

The Person - Skills

- Minimum 2 years experience in digital sales
- Exceptional interpersonal skills
- Campaign selling experience
- Independent strategic thinker
- Highly effective time manager
- Consultative approach to sales
- Proven track record

We offer:

- A sales induction plan
- 25 days holiday entitlement + bank holidays
- Company pension scheme & healthcare scheme (after qualifying period)
- Company Car

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries 21 March - 20 April
 Complex energies reveal that the week could have its ups and downs, yet with the right approach you can still overcome difficulties and gain traction. The issue of whether to express yourself and your creativity freely, as opposed to withholding feelings and information, can be eased by allowing your intuition to guide the way ahead. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Libra 24 September - 23 October
 Your assertive yet charming way with others can inspire friends to collaborate with you on creative ideas and other plans. Yet, watch out for unresolved issues that pit your social expectations against a backdrop of financial angst. Later though, the Aquarian Full Moon brings a promise of fun, along with heady romantic feelings. Call me for your love scope in full...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
 Thoughtful reflection may show you the way to seal a deal or stabilize communications, particularly around finances and domestic affairs. Although a compromise might not be easy, it's possible that by trying different perspectives for size the right course of action will reveal itself. Yet, flexibility could be a useful asset too. Call me now for your financial forecast in full...

Scorpio 24 October - 22 November
 You might have to contend with a few stumbling blocks concerning the realization of ambitions. However, attuning to your creative flow could help you see ways around any pitfalls. As the Sun squares Saturn, there's a chance you're resisting an idea or opportunity that may be good for you, if you're willing to give it a chance. Call my prediction line for more news and advice...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
 Optimism combines with liberating opportunities to encourage new beginnings, second chances and positive initiatives. The current alignment hints at a life-changing decision or a progressive option that could expand your horizons. Yet, as Mercury challenges Saturn, more practical matters could curtail this desire for fresh adventures. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius 23 November - 21 December
 Perhaps your mind is set on an idea with an intellectual bias that could help re-create your future, or maybe faraway shores and exotic sun-kissed locations beckon. Yet, deeper forces are also at work encouraging transformational insights, with the Full Moon bringing an opportunity to discuss and resolve edgy or awkward feelings. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
 Are you involved in finding constructive ways to work around limitations? Although responding to difficulties may not be easy, part of the reason could be that a creative project or budding relationship is going through growing pains. The Full Moon could aid you by bringing feelings into the open to be acknowledged and released. Call me for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn 22 December - 20 January
 Keep your eyes open for opportunities that arise from seemingly improbable sources, as they could lay the groundwork for future security. In addition, this week's blend of energies hints that it helps to be patient with friends who are on edge. Taking time to talk things over can bring understanding and healing regarding an ongoing issue. Call for more news and advice...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
 There's an ongoing dance between expressing your love of life and trading gingerly around home and family affairs which could be holding you back. However, all of this might be helped by focusing on solutions. For romantics, the weekend's Full Moon could enhance a special occasion and bring you and another even closer. Call now for your love scope in full...

Aquarius 21 January - 19 February
 The warmth of a confident Leo line-up helps support business and romantic relationships. Yet, this week's influences can also foster stronger connections with those who might assist you with a key ambition. Later, the Full Moon in your sign encourages you to share information or feelings that you may have kept to yourself up until now. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo 24 August - 23 September
 If faced with uncertainty or dilemma, withdrawing from the world may be the wrong strategy, even though it might seem the easiest. Doing so could add to any confusion when it could be better to tackle the situation head on. This week benefits show up if you're willing to make changes and can zero in on what's best for everyone. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Pisces 20 February - 20 March
 You seem to be brimming with bright ideas that you're easily able to communicate and that might benefit your job or income as a result. Be on your guard though, as your positive outlook and resultant success could encourage jealousy. Over the weekend make time to kick back and take it easy, especially if you've been ultra-busy earlier in the week. Call for more advice...

ALL 60: Youngsters are put through their paces with various ball drills at Harlow Rugby Club's "Give mini-rugby a try" day and, top left, a youngster touches down for a try

Pics: Steve Weemes and Harlow RFC

Future rugby stars put through paces by Rams

A FUN time was had by budding Johnny Wilsons and Margaret Alphonsis as youngsters gave the oval ball game a try at Harlow Rugby Club.

The Elizabeth Road club aimed to give as many children as possible some fun playing a bit of mini-rugby.

It was not just for the new children, with many of the youngsters who have been a big part of the club so far also joining in.

Club spokesman and former first team captain Paul Eynon said: "We did exceptionally well and had a much better turn out than expected and the youngsters that attended (40) included two from overseas."

"To put that in perspective we only had 80 something kids in all the minis last year."

The children were split into their age groups.

The sessions involved practising the skills of running, passing, catching and tagging or for the older kids a little tackle practice.

Of the 40 children, 19 were U-7s, and there were 17 between U-8 and U-10.

Eynon said: "The 19 kids at U-7s is great because this is our entry level team into the club and they are due to start training and playing matches in September."

Part of the day involved teaching the children a cultural element, and they were taught a rugby song. Each of the groups practised this and they took to it like ducks to water. Mini rugby is for girls and boys aged six (Year 2) to 12 (Year 7).

ALTOGETHER: Youngsters line up with coaches at the Harlow Rugby Club

It is a series of simplified versions of rugby to introduce children to the sport. The emphasis at the younger age groups is on movement and ball skills, while kicking and defence are skills that can be worked on later.

Eynon said: "It was a great day and the rain managed to hold off which was a massive bonus. The kids all left tired with a big smile on their faces and a certificate."

"A massive thank you goes to the volunteers from across the club who helped pull this all together, making it such a success."

The club's regular mini-rugby sessions start after the school summer holidays end and are held on Sundays. The first session is on September 7 and they run from 10.30am to midday.

Eynon said: "All are welcome, even if they missed the open day, to come along and try rugby at Harlow Rugby Club."

"If you have children who may be keen to try rugby, please bring them along to give it go and see if they like it. The first few sessions will be free."

Competition is tough at 25th Harlow 10 Mile Road Race

HARLOW Running Club staged the 25th running of the Harlow 10 Mile Road Race.

The course started opposite Mark Hall Sports Centre and finished back on the athletics track.

The winner was Jake Shelley (Shaftsbury Barnet Harriers) in 54 minutes 42 seconds. First lady was Alex Gounelas (Eton Manor) in 1:03.30.

First Harlow runner was Jared Bethell, fourth in 1:00.05, followed by Noel Thatcher (10th & third vet 40, 1:01.21), Lyndon Cooper (11th personal best 1:01.31), Alan Broughton (26th 1:08.01), Daniel Jephcott (43rd 1:11.48) and Robin Lozeau (106th 1:26.05).

Harlow also competed in the Midweek League Road Race Mob Match, over a two-lap course at Welwyn Garden City.

In the ladies' race Louise Tankard (43.02) finished ninth from 101 finishers, followed by Sharon Wright (16th 45.32) and Paula Reynolds (24th 47.58). Rob Lowe (37.45) was 24th out of 236 male finishers, followed by Jamie Jephcott (54th 39.37) and Steve Mackenzie (41.03).

Harlow took five division two series awards. Tankard won the senior ladies, with Julia Gardiner ladies' vet 35 winner. Sharon Wright was second in the senior ladies, Steve Mackenzie third Vet 50 and John Tennant second Vet 60.

Other Harlow results: Ladies: Dandra Rust (31st 50.57); Janice Page (32nd 51.07); Karen Moir (57th 55.21); Holly Nairn (59th 55.44); Alison Bull (66th 57.36); Joy Hale (82nd 62.04); Claire Stevens (89th 63.56). Men: Adrian Fell (76th 41.55); Daniel Jephcott (82nd 42.14); Sean Flynn (100th 43.58); Frank Pardoe (103rd 44.09); John Tennant (108th 44.25); Santosh Kumar (109th 44.26); John Bull (136th 46.26); Brendon MacLean (137th 46.30); Mark Hayward (140th 46.52); Colin Moody (165th 48.56); Andy Ramage (166th 48.57); Peter Ayling (178th 50.33); Robin Lozeau (185th 50.55); Andy Kinney (212nd 57.27).

At the Serpentine 5K in Hyde Park, Steve Murtagh finished second and 1st Vet 50 in 17.03, seven seconds outside the HRC Vet 50 record.

At Waltham Abbey's Gunpowder Parkrun 5K, Jason Haigh was fifth in 20.35, followed by Andy Kinney (58th, 28.35) and Pushpa Mistry (67th, 29.54). At the Basingstoke Parkrun 5K, Richard Solomons was 34th (1st Vet 60 21.09). At the Stansted 10K, Gary Godfrey came 22nd in 48 minutes and Jon Steadman 43rd (53.09).

Trio dazzle on track and field for club

HARLOW Athletic Club's members have been shining in recent weeks, with 2016 Paralympics hopeful Richard Chiassarro among them.

Chiassarro took on the Coventry Godiva Classic for wheelchair racers. The event doubled as a European team selection meeting.

Chiassarro won all five of his T54 events and should be in line for a spot in the GB team at the European Championships this summer.

Naomi Harryman was part of the victorious England team as they won the Schools' International Athletic Board match in Cardiff.

She took bronze in the long jump. She jumped 5.72m, but also produced a massive jump which would have won gold if her toe hadn't been 0.5cm over the board.

Harryman now looks forward to the England National Championships for heptathlon, in which she is currently UK number one, and the England National Championships for long jump and high jump. She is ranked third in the UK in the former and fifth in the latter.

Will Marklew was crowned Southern Counties combined event champion for the U-17 octathlon at Bedford.

The first day began solidly enough with the 400m (55.54s) and he achieved a personal best in the hurdles (15.62s).

The 16-year-old was close to his best in the shot put (12.50m), but fell short of his usual standards in the long jump (5.05m).

He came into day two fifth overall. He threw the javelin 49.42m and jumped 1.84m in the high jump.

A discus throw of 32.42m and a 1500m run of 4.47.14 saw him amass 4622 points to win the title by 75 points.

Benton smashes personal best for Essex

SIX Harlow athletes were selected to represent Essex and Hertfordshire at the South of England Inter Counties U-17 Championships in Portsmouth – three for the first time.

Pride of place on the day went to St Nicholas School pupil Zoe Benton who earlier this year won at the ISA Nationals in both the 80m and 300m hurdles.

In Portsmouth, Zoe finished second in the A string 300m hurdles out of eight runners to run a personal best (PB) of 45.6 seconds.

That places her 16th in the UK and second in the East Region.

Harlow Athletic Club athlete Bryn Thorpe, in only his second competition in the 100m hurdles, ran a new PB of 14.7s, placing fourth in the B string, a performance that pleased his coach Steve Lott.

Club-mate Mohamed Tembedou was second in the high jump B string (1.80m), representing Hertfordshire.

Representing Herts for the first time was Ellie Williams in the discus. The Harlow AC athlete was just shy of her PB with a throw of 21.23m.

Mark Hall students Jodi Ratcliff and Ben Pattison also represented Essex in the match.

Jodi placed fifth in the B string 800m in 2:22.5 and Ben matched that position in the B string over 3k in 10 minutes and 12 seconds.

At Watford, 13-year-old Kyesha Robinson, a Burnt Mill student, ran 62.09 for 400m, a PB, while placing second in a mixed race.

This performance ranks her second in the UK for U-15 girls.

Bad batting costs team very dearly

SKIPPER Rehman Ahmed blamed "poor shot selection" as his Harlow side slumped to a three wicket defeat at Buckhurst Hill in division one of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

Buckhurst Hill won the toss on Saturday and inserted Harlow on a difficult batting surface, with movement being offered to the bowlers.

Spinner Mohib Shah claimed Harlow's top three batsmen, and when Luke Monger was also dismissed, the score stood at 56-4.

Ahmed Khawaja mustered 38 and was supported by Nino Calvino (18) to get the score to 95-5.

However, the visitors then collapsed and were bowled out for 123.

With limited runs to play with, and on a wicket which was turning, it wasn't long before Ahmed threw the ball to left-arm spinner Tom Ryder.

Luke Heskett had claimed the first Buckhurst wicket.

Ryder and Heskett kept things tight, the former finishing with 2-13 from his 10 overs. Heskett (2-26) and Baxter (2-24) put in determined spells and Luke Monger got another wicket.

However, Harlow dropped catches and these missed opportunities allowed Buckhurst to build what was to be the decisive partnership with left-handers Allen and Cassel.

The hosts reached their target for the loss of seven wickets.

Harlow lie fifth in the 10-team league.

Harlow II (122-9; Alan Jones 34 not out) drew with Orsett II (217-9) and leaders Harlow III (238; Alan Burton 48) beat Chingford III (139) by 99 runs in division one.

A young Harlow fifth team, containing six U-14 players, totalled 171 with Harry Burton scoring 64.

Horndon on the Hill chased the target down in 37 overs, ending on 172-3 to win by seven wickets.

Defeat hits rise hopes for Town

THE promotion hopes of Harlow Town received a blow as they lost by two wickets against Stanford Le Hope in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

Town batted first on Saturday but batting proved harder than expected with early deliveries popping up and hitting the batsman in the chest and gloves.

Town openers Shiraz Ali (0) and Ashley Alderson (13) both went early as Stanford bowled well and Town struggled to 80-6.

Brothers Scott and Shaun Alderson then put on an 80-run partnership until Scott was removed on 33, followed shortly after by Shaun who made 40.

In reply, Stanford slipped to 38-3 but recovered through a partnership between Michael Gray (52) and Thomas Willats (26). The hosts reached 140-5, and, although Town got three more wickets, Sachin Sewgobind (31) played well and his innings settled the issue.

Hassan Ali and Dan Farmer respectively picked up four and three wickets.

Harlow Town II beat Horndon on the Hill II by 98 runs.

Town batted first and slipped to 3-2 before Charlie Coleman made a brilliant 106. Town scored 236 from 48 overs.

In reply, Horndon reached 70-0, before the introduction of Simon Rowell turned the game. He took 7-44 as Horndon were bowled out for 138.

Harlow Town III were not in action and Harlow Town IV (231-5; Nick Teale 62) drew with Upminster (141-6).

HARLOW judo star Faith Pitman told the Star she was "absolutely ecstatic" after winning a bronze medal at the Commonwealth Games and revealed it would probably be her last fight.

The 29-year-old member of Stebbing-based West Essex Judo Club was pitted against Australia's Katharina Haecker in the second of two U-63 category bronze medal contests at the Scottish Exhibition Conference Centre.

She immediately went on the offensive, making her attacking intent clear by pinning her opponent to the mat, and then attempting a number of throws.

With one minute and 20 seconds of the fight remaining she finally got on the scoreboard with a wazari score and it proved to be enough as she held out for the bronze.

Speaking moments after her victory, Pitman said: "I'm absolutely ecstatic and really pleased. It was a really tough fight, I knew it would be going into it."

"I think this will be the last time I fight. It's definitely going out on a high. My first fight [against Canada's Beatrice Valoir Fortier] didn't go to plan, possibly I got too nervous, but I got into it."

"The second fight [when she beat Malta's Marcon Bezzina in the repechage contest] was really good, and so was this one. I kept control of it, I had to keep it clean which I did.

"It's so easy to fight with a crowd like this – it's amazing."

Pitman said the win would mean a lot to her club, and boyfriend Thomas, a coach at the club, was there to witness her win.

"My boyfriend has come up to watch. This is the highlight of my career. I've been training really hard it's been my main focus for a while now."

Pitman was hugely enjoying the whole Commonwealth Games experience.

"It's been absolutely awesome. I went to the opening ceremony and people said I got on TV so it was fantastic.

"I absolutely loved every minute of it. I'm going to enjoy the rest of it now. I'll be supporting everyone else and hopefully we can get a few more medals."

England's success will help raise the profile of the sport, something Pitman is delighted about, and encouraged people to get on the mats themselves.

"I would say to youngsters just give judo a go – it's absolutely brilliant. It really helps build your character, it's great for self-confidence and self-defence, especially for girls," she said.

"Just look up your local club on the internet and join."

Haecker had earlier overcome England's Katie Jemima Yeats-Brown, but then lost to Scot Sarah Clark. Ranked 30th in the world, she has dual German and Australian citizenship.

The atmosphere in the arena was electric, and Pitman looked confident as she strode in to enthusiastic rhythmic clapping.

The contest was an entertaining one, and as the crowd sensed Pitman was in the ascendancy they cheered every time she attacked.

Pitman quickly overcame the disappointment of her loss earlier in the day, when she was very down-beat.

She said: "I'm most disappointed with my first fight – I let the pressure get to me."

Harten's tears turn to joy as England close in on semis

IT really was a case of mixed emotions for Harlow netball star Jo Harten as she helped put England on the verge of a semi-final place at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow this week.

The experienced goal shooter had a solid opening game against Wales which saw England cruise to a 65-25 victory.

But the following day's match against Australia was a real nail-biter, and left Harten in tears, right, after she missed the shot which would probably have given them victory.

With just seconds to go and the scores level, the 25-year-old shaped up to shoot.

Agonisingly the ball hit the rim and possession went back to the Aussies, who surged up field for one last attack to score and take a 49-48 victory.

It was a cruel blow for 25-year-old Harten, who had played a blinder in the first quarter especially, and was instrumental in putting England in the driving seat.

England coach Anna Mayes was quick to praise Harten, saying she was a strong enough character to bounce back from the disappointment.

"That will be tough in terms of that shot, but at end of day she also shot some beautiful goals to keep us in the game," said Mayes.

"She is a tough cookie and I expect her to bounce back – as will the whole team."

They did exactly that with a 41-35 triumph over South Africa, with Harten contributing 20 goals.

There was even better to come as England trounced Trinidad and Tobago 70-24 on Tuesday at the SECC.

Harten had a scoring percentage rate of 81 per cent as she sank 35 goals in 43 attempts in the one-sided affair.

She also had five goal assists and four turnovers.

"We dominated from the off. I think I went a bit up and down in that game. I'm still trying to get my mojo back."

Commenting on yesterday's (Wednesday's) game against bottom of the table Barbados, Harten said: "We'll just go in with a bit of confidence and really take on the rest of this tournament."

"We're sending a good strong message that we're still contenders for that medal."

Popular winger is back in the Hawks' nest

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has brought in two new signings but released Robbie Martin. Dave Cowley, pictured right, who can play on either flank, returns to the club and utility player Michael Toner has also joined. Cowley has had two previous spells at Harlow and in the second of them he won the Supporters' Player of the Year award at the end of the 2010/11 season. Chapman said: "Dave is a great signing for us. "He has been on contract at Maldon and AFC Sudbury which tells you that a lot of people think highly of him.

"Last season we had a lot of pace going forward, but we perhaps missed some quality." He added: "He and James Smith can give us that quality in the last third. "Michael Toner was at Heybridge Swifts last season. He is equally comfortable at centre-back or centre-midfield." Chapman was tight-lipped about Martin's departure.

Martin could play at right-back or on the right wing. Harlow Town's manager said: "There was a disagreement between us and I felt it was in the best interests of the team that we parted company. I wish him all the best." Chapman was away for Harlow's home friendly against Waltham Forest. A brace from Shane Stamp and Alex Read along with a Fabian Simms header saw the Hawks win 5-0 against Essex Senior League side Waltham Forest. Harlow round off their pre-season preparations with a home friendly against Huntingdon Town this Saturday. Harlow start their Ryman League division one north programme at Redbridge in nine days.

Glasgow anger as Osagie's elbowed out

BY ANDREW FRANCAZAK

andrew.franczak@hertssexnews.co.uk

ANDREW Osagie has reacted angrily to his controversial disqualification from the 800m heats at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow.

The 26-year-old former Leventhorpe and Burnt Mill student had been in second place for most of Tuesday's heat, but in a frantic race to the finish line there was a clash of elbows and apparent trip involving Welshman Joe Thomas, who had come up on Osagie's inside.

Osagie, a member of Harlow Athletic Club, finished third in 1:49.06.

The race was won by Australian Jeffrey Riseley, who clocked 1:48.63.

But, after reviewing footage of the race officials deemed Thomas, who was fourth, had been impeded by Osagie and was placed third behind Kenyan Ferguson Cheuiyot Rotich (1:48.70).

The England team put in a counter-appeal for Osagie, but this was rejected and his disqualification stood.

A furious Osagie posted on Twitter: "Unbelievable actions to get someone punished despite them not starting the whole thing."

Talking to the Star moments after the race - before news of his disqualification came through - he said: "I've just watched it in video. I felt great during the race. I felt I was in a good position to control without being at the front."

"I felt like my old self getting on the shoulder of the leader."

"As I came down the home straight I thought if there was going to be an attack it would be from the outside.

"But I felt good to respond. Next thing I know I'm getting caught on the inside and caught my arms and my legs.

"For the last 50, 20 metres I'm literally falling over. I did well to stay on my feet and get over the finish line.

"I felt fine [during the race] as soon as it goes up to 1:48 or 1:49 pace it brings everyone into the game because everyone can run that sort of time because that's what you have to do to qualify."

"I felt within myself - I felt good.

"I came to these championships and that's what I like, I like championship racing I felt great.

"I think I was well within my rights - I got tripped by someone else.

"Literally by the time I got to the point where I was tripped I couldn't even control which direction I was going in."

Osagie is no stranger to disqualifications, with the most recent one working in his favour.

During this season's World Indoor Championships in Poland he won bronze after home runner Marcin Lewandowski was disqualified for stepping into the infield.

"It's part and parcel of racing," said Osagie, who exchanged a few terse words with Thomas after they crossed the line.

Speaking before news of Osagie's disqualification was confirmed, Darren Campbell, a former Olympic relay gold medalist who is commenting for the BBC, told the Star: "It would be harsh if he was disqualified."

"It looked like half a dozen of one and all that. I don't think Osagie went to close the door knowing he could block off Thomas, he just went to close the door and then they collided."
